Anagnos, one of the accomplished daughters of Julia Ward Howe, presents, under cover of a pleasing narrative, a sketch of the Emerson session of the Concord School of Philosophy. It has for its frontispiece an excellent picture of the building occupied by this renowned school. -Literary News, Volumes 5-6 * * * From the author s PREFACE. In making the following unpretentious sketch of two of the seasons of the Philosophical School of Concord, a sketch written rather for enjoyment than with any idea of a reporter s resume, I have taken as a sort of half heroine the shadowy figure of a young girl, through whose eyes the school appears in the light of a coup d il, and not of an exact scientific history. What this slenderly-drawn personage saw and heard, in looking on as a silent spectator at one of the great dramas of modern thought and intellectual aspiration, has been told as simply as the nature of the occasions described would permit, and I shall be very glad if the portrayal (which I offer more in the sense of a free-hand drawing than of a matured dissertation) proves of interest to the reader. The picturesque elements which the school presents have struck me as only requiring a frame to complete them, and this frame I have carved with a light hand, and without the addition of superfluous ornaments or gilding. Hoping, then, that, as all thinkers have earnestly watched the very important developments which have been occurring at Concord for the past five years, some interest may also be awakened by this presentment of the...
